Special Lecture for Overseas Training Program 2

May 22 (Wed.) 10:00–12:00
Daiko campus Wellbeing Seminar room

Title Understanding the Philippine Society: Poverty, Economic Disparity and Migrant Culture

Lecturer Ron Bridget Vilog, PhD
De La Salle University
International Studies Department

The presentation provides an overview of the social, cultural and political institutions in the Philippines. Basic information about the government, religion, educational system, and economic structures will be discussed. After presenting the basic foundations in studying the Philippine society, the lecture will focus on the causes and consequences of poverty, the failure of economic development in certain periods, as well as the “push and pull factors” that continuously propel human mobility and migration. The lecture aims to stir discussions and debates about the impacts of globalization to certain Filipino communities and households. How do Filipino families face the everyday challenge of poverty and inequality? How does the entire Filipino nation experience the impacts and unintended consequences of global development? Is migration an ultimate solution to alleviate poverty? Participants are expected to address these questions upon conclusion of the lecture.
